Statement from Joe Wineke on Dennis Troha Plea Agreement

Democratic Party of Wisconsin Chairman Joe Wineke issued this statement today following the plea agreement in the case of Dennis Troha.

“It is clear from the plea agreement that the Democratic Party of Wisconsin did nothing inappropriate. Five years ago, in October of 2002, we received thousands of contributions, and there was absolutely nothing about the contributions from Mr. Troha or any of his family members that appeared improper. However, given the circumstances, the Party will make a contribution equivalent to those received five years ago to the state Boys and Girls Club. We encourage the Bush campaign to do the same.”
