MILWAUKEE — Momentum continues to grow in support of Judge Rebecca Dallet's campaign for Wisconsin Supreme Court. Over the past month, Dallet has added 37 more current or retired judges from across the state to her growing list of supporters bringing the total to 126.

"I'm proud to sign on as a supporter of Judge Dallet's campaign for Supreme Court," said Judge William Domina of Waukesha County. "Her experience is unmatched, and I trust her vision for Wisconsin's highest court."

"The decision to support Judge Dallet in this race was an easy one," said Judge Barbara Key of Winnebago County. "Rebecca is truly independent, as our courts should be, and she is an exceptional jurist with the experience we need on the bench."

"I have spent my career fighting for a more just and fair judicial system in our state, and I am encouraged by the overwhelming support we have received in our campaign to bring those values to the Wisconsin Supreme Court," said Judge Rebecca Dallet. "Judges from across the state are jumping on board with my campaign because they know I have what it takes to serve on our state's highest court."

Rebecca Dallet is a mom, an experienced attorney, and a judge. She has served on the Milwaukee County Circuit Court for nine years and worked as a prosecutor for more than a decade prior to being elected to the bench. During her career, Dallet worked to put sexual predators behind bars, and prosecuted drug, gun, and violent crime cases in partnership with the U.S. Attorney's office. She has served as the presiding judge in domestic violence and misdemeanor court and presided over serious felony and homicide cases, as well as civil court.

Judge Dallet is running because she believes in Wisconsin, and that our state needs unbiased Justices committed to interpreting and upholding the law in a fair and balanced way. She lives in Whitefish Bay with her husband, Brad, and their three teenage daughters.
