MADISON – Today, Department of Revenue Secretary Richard Chandler appeared before the Joint Committee on Finance to discuss Governor Walker's 2017-19 Biennial Budget. Secretary Chandler issued the following statement:

Governor Walker's budget is working and winning for Wisconsin by lowering taxes and advancing policies that encourage work. This budget's tax reform initiatives reduce income tax rates for everyone, with significant relief targeted to middle class taxpayers. This budget continues our commitment to hold the line on property taxes for Wisconsin homeowners. As our state's tax burden decreases, opportunities increase for Wisconsin families.
