

Edgewood College: Perspectives on Value and Quality in Healthcare

Posted on Thursday, Apr 13, 2017

Edgewood College,
Anderson Auditorium,
Madison.

Madison, Wis. (April 13, 2017) – Edgewood College is pleased to invite Greater Madison to Perspectives on Value and Quality in Healthcare. This panel discussion will take place 3:30 pm – 5:00 pm, Wednesday, April 19, 2017, in Anderson Auditorium. The event is free.

Healthcare affects us all personally, and we can hardly visit the web or read a publication today without any reference to healthcare, one of the largest and most complex sectors of our economy. Leading Wisconsin experts from key stakeholders in the healthcare sector will share their perspectives on how consumers, employers, payers and the government can derive more value and higher quality in healthcare. Raj Kamal, Senior Lecturer in the School of Business at Edgewood College will moderate the panel.

Panelists include Dr. Timothy Bartholow, V.P. and Chief Medical Officer, WEA Trust; Mr. Michael Heifetz, State Medicaid Director, Wisconsin Department of Health Services; Mr. Chris Queram, President/CEO Wisconsin Collaborative for Healthcare Quality (WCHQ); and Mr. Lee Wiersma, Executive V.P. / Chief Human Resources Officer, UW Credit Union.