The protection of Wisconsin's natural resources is extremely important to the future of our state. I am committed to prioritizing our environment and fighting to preserve and protect what makes Wisconsin special.

I'm running for Governor to restore balance to regulations of the environment and ensure that every Wisconsinite has access to clean water. I will restore independence to the DNR and ensure the views of scientists are respected when making environmental policy. I will also restore our commitment to developing renewable energy, which will create jobs, lower energy costs and reduce carbon emissions. The fight against climate change is a global fight, and Wisconsin must do its part.

I cannot do this without your support. We can defeat Scott Walker and restore sanity to environmental policy, but only if we work together.

Thank you, and I hope to see you at the event!
