Tony Evers on Track to Double Fundraising of 2013 Campaign

Madison — State Superintendent Tony Evers continues to have an aggressive fundraising strategy as the campaign moves into the closing days of the race for State Superintendent.

Later today, Evers will report raising $217,616 for the filing period of February 7th through March 20th, as well as cash on hand of $74,634.

The following is a statement from Amanda Brink, Campaign Manager for Tony Evers for State Superintendent:

“Tony is proud to be supported by parents, educators and community leaders across Wisconsin who share his dedication to kids and commitment to public education. Tony’s campaign has received thousands of contributions from hard-working Wisconsin folks who donated $50 or $75 at a time and is on track to double Tony’s 2013 campaign resources.

With this robust fundraising, the campaign has made a significant investment in reaching out to voters in the final week of the election.”
