(Green Bay) — Gubernatorial candidate Matt Flynn will hold a press conference tomorrow at the University of Wisconsin–Green Bay to unveil his plan to fix the student loan debt crisis in Wisconsin.

“Banks, abetted by their Republican cohorts in the Legislature, are profiting at the expense of our students,” said Flynn. “Young people should not face a lifetime of debt for educating themselves. We have a responsibility to fix this mess.”

Flynn’s solutions include legislation to help students refinance their loans and a state borrowing authority for Wisconsin colleges and the UW System.
