APPLETON, Wis. (November 15, 2017) – Leadership Fox Cities: Executive, a program of the Fox Cities Chamber, is now accepting applications for the Winter 2018 class. The program is designed for the C-suite or VP-level executive and their spouse/guest. This program is unique because it allows for both participants to gain a better understanding of the community, as well as make critical connections outside the internal culture of their company or organization.

During the six-session program, participants will meet and network with other top executives, key decision makers and program participants. This is an opportunity to build new and lasting personal and professional relationships in the community. Participants will hear from business leaders who are confronting challenges and creating opportunities in the Fox Cities Region and gain insights into how they could apply these lessons in their business.

The program is open to both Chamber members and non-members in a senior-level management position, plus their guest. Program tuition rates apply. Class meeting dates for Winter 2018 are: January 11, January 25, February 8, February 22, March 8, March 22. Participants are expected to attend all class sessions.

Benefits of Leadership Fox Cities: Executive

Participants engage in active learning, ask their own questions and become aware of resources within the community.

Participants form a new leadership network and are exposed to leadership opportunities on boards, committees, etc.

Spouse or Guest is provided with numerous opportunities to become quickly connected within the community.

Leadership Fox Cities: Executive is accepting applications now through until December 11, 2017.
