Grafton, Wisconsin – With the announcement that Graham-Cassidy healthcare legislation will no longer be brought to a vote, business executive and non-profit leader Dan Kohl issued the following statement:

“The defeat of Graham-Cassidy is a victory for the American people. This legislation would have removed pre-existing condition protections, increased premiums, and allowed older Americans to be charged more for their insurance. But this is only a temporary reprieve. Rep. Glenn Grothman’s ‘my way or the highway’ approach means the health care of 6th District families will continue to be at risk as long as he serves in Washington.”
