Grafton - With growing speculation about the future of the Special Counsel's investigation into Russian involvement in the 2016 election, former business executive and non-profit leader Dan Kohl issued the following statement:

"The Special Counsel's investigation of Russian interference and possible collusion with American actors in the 2016 election is a matter of critical national security concern. The Russian government orchestrated and funded an attack on the very foundations of American democracy. Robert Mueller's investigation must be allowed to continue unimpeded and free of political interference. In this country no one is above the law."
