

Madison International Trade Association free breakfast event

Posted on Monday, Oct 16, 2017

Pyle Center, 702 Langdon St, Madison, WI 53706

CONTACT: Ana Garic
Communications and Event Coordinator
Madison International Trade Association
608.335.3936

Two barriers are often cited by Wisconsin companies contemplating entry into new international markets—complexity and cost. This half-day seminar will dispel misconceptions about both, with particular emphasis on the many sources of funding available to help you achieve your strategic exporting goals.

Join MITA for this FREE breakfast event and learn first-hand from the experts on international trade from the following organizations will detail specific programs available to help finance your export initiatives:

- Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation
- DATCP's International Agribusiness Center
- Wisconsin Center for Manufacturing and Productivity
- U.S. Small Business Administration
- Small Business Development Center
- U.S. Export-Import Bank
- International Bankers
- Foreign Exchange
- U.S. Commercial Service
- Economic Development Organizations & Local Funders

The seminar will combine presentations and roundtable discussions to provide attendees with actionable advice on funding their global ambitions.

AGENDA:

7:30 AM – 8:00 AM – Registration and Networking

8:00 AM – 11:30 AM – Opening Remarks & Presentations

11:30 AM – 12:00 PM – Q & A Session and Closing Remarks

Cost of Admission: FREE (registration required)

This event is Co-sponsored by E. M. Wasylik Associates, WEDC, MadREP, ME Dey and ABS Global.

Not a MITA member? Join today.