

Milwaukee Press Club: 'Health Care Reform: What's needed now?'

Posted on Wednesday, May 31, 2017

As part of its continuing effort to encourage in-depth analysis of the most important issues of the day, the Milwaukee Press Club is pleased to present its next Behind the Headlines topic.

The stakes are high in Wisconsin and nationwide as Congress considers and revises the American Health Care Act (AHCA), intended to replace the Affordable Care Act (ACA). Opinions and positions are split both between and among Republicans and Democrats.

What: The Milwaukee Press Club has assembled panelists with expertise in health care, insurance and community health to discuss what they believe is needed in order to provide quality, affordable health care to families and individuals for the foreseeable future.

When: Wednesday, June 21, 2017, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Where: The Newsroom Pub, 137 E. Wells Street, Milwaukee, 53202

Guest panel: (listed alphabetically):

- John Bartkowski, former President and CEO of Sixteenth Street Community Health Centers
- Todd Catlin, Owner/Partner, Transition Health Benefits
- Bob Duncan, Executive Vice President, Community Services
- Cathy Mahaffey, President and CEO, Common Ground Healthcare Cooperative

Guest panelists will respond to questions from the media panel, followed by audience participation.
