

Moore's message to Republicans: Go to hell

Posted on Saturday, Jun 3, 2017

U.S. Rep. Gwen Moore, D-Milwaukee, said she's been thinking about the directive from some that Dems need to talk the language of the "discontented," many of whom she said voted for Donald Trump last fall.

The best idea for a message she's heard came from the Brown County Democrats: Republicans, go to hell.

"They'll understand that," Moore said. "No detour. No idling. No parking. No reverse. Go straight to hell."

Moore said some chide Dems for focusing on climate change with rising temperatures and sea levels. Instead, she told activists to talk about the benefits of a new energy economy and the jobs it creates. When talking about stem cell research, she added, focus on things like the possibility of solving juvenile diabetes.

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

She spoke next to a sign that read "Republicans ... GO TO HELL." Below, it read:

"Humane
Equal
Logical
Legislation"

"Tell some of them you're decent human beings. You just need to go straight to hell and think about what will truly make America great," Moore said.