Green Bay, Wisconsin – On Broadway's igNight Market presented by Fox Communities Credit Union will feature local artisans and makers, original live music, interactive art demonstrations, street performers, activities, food trucks and more. igNight Market will be hosted on Saturday, August 19 from 5-10pm at Leicht Memorial Park in Green Bay. Visit igNight Market on Facebook or at onbroadway.org for more event information.

The igNight Market will feature original live music from Age of Fable and Harvey Brown with headliner, The Blue Stones, starting at 9:00 p.m. Live paintings, aerial yoga artists, face painting, magic acts, palm readings, henna, life-size games and several other activities will be on site for all ages to participate in.

"The igNight Market event series was designed to deviate from traditional community events and offer something slightly unexpected. Our team has carefully curated these events that will cater to audiences of diverse backgrounds, bringing a fresh and unique experience to each market. The rotating open-air market concept showcases underutilized spaces in the Broadway district while demonstrating creative ways to activate those spaces." – Brian Johnson, Executive Director, On Broadway, Inc.
