Madison... Assembly Democrats droned on for hours on the floor this week regurgitating the word “rigged” over and over again. Rigged joined our political lexicon when used by President Trump to explain the Democrat presidential primary race. “Crooked Hillary rigged the presidential primary election against Bernie Sanders”. This statement by President Trump is the truth, whereas the state democrats could not be bothered to back up any of their baseless allegations.

Bigly is another Trumpism, explaining a very large thing or event. Possibly the Assembly

Democrats would like to hijack that word next to explain their Foxconn votes? “The poorest and most vulnerable in our local communities will be hurt the most bigly in the event the Foxconn proposal stumbles due to the refusal of the Democrat Party to support the legislation creating thousands and thousands of middle class career opportunities”.
