

Senate gavels back in, set to take up PLA bill

Posted on Wednesday, Feb 8, 2017

The Senate has gaveled back in after a short recess and will take up the project labor agreements bill.

The PLA bill, authored by Rep. Rob Hutton, R-Brookfield, and Sen. Leah Vukmir, R-Brookfield, would prohibit local governments from requiring companies bidding on their construction projects to enter into project labor agreements.

Check Quorum Call for updates on the bill.