WASHINGTON—House Speaker Paul Ryan (R-WI) issued the following statement on President Trump's national security strategy:

“Protecting our nation from the myriad of threats we face is the single most important role of government, and I’m glad President Trump has endorsed this strong vision to keep the American people safe. This strategy places the correct emphasis on confronting our adversaries, bolstering our defenses, and working with our allies to promote peace, security, and democracy. Congress will continue to work with the Trump administration to seek peace through strength, and ensure we have the robust national security posture necessary for the 21st century.”
