Transportation Development Association Executive Director Craig Thompson released the following statement:

“We applaud the Assembly Republicans for taking a leadership role in offering solutions to address Wisconsin’s long-standing and well-documented transportation challenges. We have traveled the state talking with people who share the same concern – that Wisconsin needs to fundamentally improve its transportation network for the safety of our citizens and the health of our economy. This proposal is a good starting point. TDA’s members stand ready to work with any elected state officials who are willing to roll up their sleeves and get the job done.”
