

UW Hospital and Clinics ranked among top hospitals in country

Posted on Wednesday, Aug 9, 2017

The University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics has been ranked among the top hospitals in the country once more by U.S. News & World Report.

Based on top-50 scores in nine areas of medical treatment, the hospital has also been recognized as the best in the state. These scores come from U.S. News & World Report's 2017-18 Best Hospitals guide.

UW Hospital and Clinics is part of the UW Health system, which includes American Family Children's Hospital, UnityPoint Health-Meriter, the Carbone Cancer Center and other groups.

The two top specialties for UW Hospitals and Clinics were urology and gynecology.

It was ranked 13 for gynecology, putting it in the top 1 percent of U.S. hospitals for this area of treatment, according to UW Health. For urology, it was ranked 16.
