Elected officials, grassroots activists and business owners unite behind Leah

Brookfield, Wis. — U.S. Senate Candidate Leah Vukmir, R-Brookfield, released a list of more than 100 endorsements on Thursday, indicating the homegrown momentum behind her campaign to beat liberal incumbent Sen. Tammy Baldwin in 2018.

“Voters have seen the amazing conservative change we’ve accomplished in Wisconsin, and they want to send someone with a proven record of winning to help pass President Trump’s agenda,” Leah said. “I am humbled by the in-state support I am receiving, and when I get to Washington, I will deliver results.”

Leah’s endorsements include state legislators, law enforcement officers, local elected officials, veterans, small business owners, educators, faith leaders and grassroots activists from across Wisconsin.

Leah previously announced that 75 percent of the nearly $250,000 she raised in the first three weeks of the campaign came from Wisconsin donors. She released a list of prominent members of her finance committee last month, which is viewable here. She also announced the members of her campaign steering committee, which can be found here.

Leah Vukmir is a nurse, military mom and conservative with a proven record of reform who is running to bring the Wisconsin Way to Washington. She currently serves as a state senator from Brookfield.
