Brookfield, Wis. — Value In Electing Women (VIEW) PAC, a group with the goal of electing Republican women to Congress, has officially endorsed state Sen. Leah Vukmir, R-Brookfield, for Wisconsin's U.S. Senate race.

"VIEW PAC is always looking for strong Republican women running for federal office, and we have found a terrific candidate in Leah Vukmir," said Julie Conway, executive director of VIEW PAC. "Leah is a nurse, an advocate, a legislator, a reformer, and a mother, and she is working tirelessly to be the next U.S. Senator from Wisconsin. Her principled devotion to our conservative values make her election critical as our country faces so many pressing issues. VIEW PAC is proud to stand behind Leah in this important race."

"I'm thankful to have VIEW PAC's support as I take on Sen. Tammy Baldwin in the U.S. Senate race," Leah said. "Wisconsin deserves a proven, conservative senator who has a history of bringing home huge wins for her constituents. VIEW PAC knows I have the record to do that in Washington because I've done it in Wisconsin."

VIEW PAC is exclusively dedicated to protecting and increasing the number of Republican women in the U.S. House and Senate. Since it began its mission 20 years ago, VIEW PAC has directly contributed and helped raise over $4 million for Republican women running for Congress. VIEW PAC strives to support credible, electable Republican women running for federal office and encourages others to do the same.

Other candidates VIEW PAC has supported include Iowa Sen. Joni Ernst, Utah Rep. Mia Love, Georgia Rep. Karen Handel and Tennessee Reps. Martha Blackburn and Diane Black.
