

Wisconsin Conservative Energy Forum

Posted on Thursday, Dec 7, 2017

WHO: Scott Coenen - Executive Director, Members of the WISCEF Leadership Council

WHAT: News conference announcing launch of Wisconsin Conservative Energy Forum

WHEN: Wednesday, December 13, 2017 10:00 a.m.

WHERE: State Senate Parlor, Wisconsin State Capitol

Madison, WI - The Wisconsin Conservative Energy Forum (WISCEF) will announce its launch as a new, innovative organization. The Conservative Energy Forum is dedicated to changing the dynamics of the renewable energy conversation in Wisconsin. The Forum will work to bring conservatives to the table to discuss changes in energy markets, including the development of clean and renewable energy resources, energy efficiency technologies, and the impact these projects can have on jobs and economic development.

The event will take place on Wednesday, December 13, 2017 at 10 a.m. in the Senate Parlor at the Wisconsin State Capitol. Several members WISCEF Leadership Council will be on hand to give brief remarks, followed by time for questions from the media.