Wisconsin State Journal endorsement follows other recent newspaper endorsements of Tammy Baldwin

MADISON — The Wisconsin State Journal today endorsed U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin for reelection.

The editorial joins other recent endorsements from the La Crosse Tribune and Cap Times, all highlighting Senator Baldwin's pragmatism, her work across party lines, and her independence in standing up for Wisconsin.

Below are key excerpts from each endorsement:

"Baldwin is showing more pragmatism as a U.S. senator who represents all of Wisconsin. She'll be more independent than her opponent when it counts."

La Crosse Tribune — Tribune endorsements: U.S. Senate: Tammy Baldwin

"She listens. She tours health care facilities and farms and other businesses — often without fanfare — and we've seen her listen and respond to constituents."

Cap Times — Editorial: Principled and effective, Tammy Baldwin merits second term

"For all the criticism of Baldwin from Republicans who want to defeat her on Nov. 6, they recognize the essential contributions she makes as a U.S. senator. They know she is a Democrat who is ready to work across lines of partisan and ideological differences to get things done."

"This is one of the many reasons why Baldwin should be re-elected to the Senate. No matter which party is in control of the U.S. Senate, no matter how deep the divisions, Baldwin is going to get things done — for Wisconsin and for the country."
