New GRB Leader Aims to Expand Economic Opportunity, Community Engagement

Brown County, Wis. – Brown County Executive Troy Streckenbach is announcing today that Marty Piette, A.A.E., has been nominated to become the new Airport Director at Green Bay-Austin Straubel International Airport.

“Following a nationwide search, we had a number of fine candidates interview for the position. Marty Piette stood out from the group because of his knowledge, skill set and dedication to Brown County and Greater Green Bay,” says County Executive Streckenbach. “I’m counting on Marty to bring the airport to the next level.”

“I am excited and honored to have been chosen to step into the role of Airport Director. Brown County is a great place to live and work, and the Airport is a valuable asset that reflects the region’s prosperity,” says Piette. “My top priorities will be to work with the various stakeholders to meet the air service needs of the community, build upon our efforts to be engaged with business and community leaders, and continue to operate the facility as efficiently as possible. Working together, we will cement GRB’s position as the airport of choice for Northeast Wisconsin and beyond.”

Piette is currently serving as the Assistant Airport Director at Green Bay-Austin Straubel International Airport. He’s had more than 20 years of airport management experience at airports in Muskegon, Michigan; Gulfport, Mississippi; and Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
