

Bryce backer urges Steil to ‘knock it off’ in new TV ad

Posted on Monday, Sep 17, 2018

Dem 1st CD candidate Randy Bryce’s latest TV ad features a supporter who demands GOP rival Bryan Steil, “knock it off.”

The spot features Patti, who is identified in the ad as a Kenosha teacher. She was featured in a previous spot that called Bryce’s rival “lyin’ Brian Steil” and has been identified as a campaign volunteer.

In the new ad, Patti says she believes Steil is “nothing but a corporate lawyer who ships jobs to China and Mexico. She goes on to say there are “enough people in Washington that lie” and Steil can’t tell the truth about his occupation.

“How safe is that?” she says to close the spot. “Bryan Steil, you’re not an outsider. You’re more of the same.”
