RACINE, WI – Today, Randy Bryce signed the Town Hall Pledge from the Town Hall Project. Now, Randy Bryce calls on Bryan Steil to join him and sign the pledge, which would give the constituents of Southeast Wisconsin an opportunity to have regular meetings with their representative.

“Today, I am proud to sign the Town Hall Pledge. This commitment is about getting real representation for the people of Southeast Wisconsin. We need to be listening to the working families in our district. That’s in the job description of a member of Congress. When I represent the people of the 1st Congressional District of Wisconsin, I will uphold this pledge and participate in a minimum of four town halls each calendar year of my term. I will make sure these events are free, open to the public, and a place where people’s ideas are respected,” said Randy Bryce. “Paul Ryan hasn’t held a town hall in almost 1,000 days, and I fear his hand picked replacement, Bryan Steil, will follow his lead. I call on Bryan Steil to sign the Town Hall Pledge to give working families the voice they deserve in Wisconsin and Washington.”
