

Burns' first TV ad says he'd stand up to Walker's 'extreme agenda'

Posted on Tuesday, Feb 6, 2018

Middleton attorney Tim Burns Tuesday unveiled the first TV ad of his campaign, saying he would be the kind of Supreme Court justice who isn't afraid to "stand up to Scott Walker's extreme agenda."

The campaign said the ad will initially run on broadcast in the Madison and Milwaukee markets. The primary between Burns, Milwaukee County Judge Rebecca Dallet and Sauk County Michael Screnock is Feb. 20.

The narrator opens the spot saying the state needs a justice who will bring change and is a "fighter for us." The narrator then says Burns grew up "without much and became one of America's leading consumer lawyers."

"Tim Burns, a justice with the courage to take on Scott Walker, the polluters and insurance companies, and a rigged economy that favors the wealthy and big corporations," the narrator says before calling Burns the "progressive justice Wisconsin needs."

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.