Former Walker Cabinet Secretary Says Walker's Presidential Aspirations Changed State Government's Focus

Today, the Tony Evers for Wisconsin Campaign released behind the scenes footage from their ad featuring former Walker cabinet appointee Peter Bildsten. In this video footage, Bildsten discusses how the Walker Administration shifted its focus to Walker's own political career instead of doing what's right for Wisconsin.

Bildsten says that following the recall election, Walker's presidential aspirations forced the state's government to put political considerations ahead of the needs of Wisconsin's families and businesses. Bildsten says of Walker, "He cares about his future. He cares about his next job. How things are going to play takes precedence over what's right."
