Today, Tony Evers for Wisconsin Campaign Manager Maggie Gau released the following statement on recent polling:

“Tony Evers clearly has the momentum in the opening days of the general election. No matter what poll you look at, Tony has eliminated any advantage Walker has had- which is why we are seeing millions spent against him by Walker’s special interest friends.

“The issues that voters care most about - education, health care and roads - are the issues Tony has been talking about throughout this campaign.

“After eight years, Wisconsin voters have had enough of typical politician Scott Walker and his broken promises to the state.

“We look forward to continuing Tony’s momentum toward victory in November. It’s time for a change.”
