(Milwaukee) - Democratic gubernatorial candidate Matt Flynn today released his updated economic plan for Wisconsin, including several new policies to raise wages, boost job growth, and create economic development.

"It is time to build communities where families prosper," said Flynn. "Scott Walker's policies are not working. After seven years of stunted economic growth that lags behind the rest of the nation, Wisconsin is ready to move its economy Forward again."

Flynn noted that economic development in most parts of the state would continue to be curtailed if the Foxconn contract is not rescinded.

"If taxpayers are forced to give away $4.5 billion to Foxconn it will remove capital needed for economic development from communities throughout the rest of the state. Wisconsin cannot move Forward again unless we stop Foxconn."
