(Eau Claire) — Wisconsin gubernatorial candidate and U.S. Navy veteran Matt Flynn made the following statement for Memorial Day.

“Today is a solemn day when we remember those individuals who gave their lives for our country. As a veteran, it is a personal honor to have served among them. It is also a reminder of the duty we all share to honor their memory by continuing to form a more perfect union.

“We must also honor the men and women who served and returned to us, but with scars both visible and invisible. We need to support veterans and give them every opportunity to succeed in civilian society.”
