Madison, WI – Today, Democratic State Treasurer candidate Sarah Godlewski announced that she has raised nearly $240,000 since she launched her campaign this spring.

Godlewski reported more than 500 individual donors to her campaign. She has raised more than double the total amount raised by all State Treasurer candidates in 2010 and 2014 combined from individual donors, by this stage in the campaign.

“I am excited to see the energy and excitement people have for this office and am honored to have received support from folks all over the state. The State Treasurer’s office has great potential that has been untapped for too long,” said Godlewski.

Godlewski will report more than $200K cash on hand and is in a strong position to compete in the multi-candidate Democratic primary election next month.

“Sarah has been running a campaign for State Treasurer on a scale never before seen in Wisconsin,” said Jessica Lovejoy, campaign spokesperson. “She has the momentum to win in August and strengthen the Democratic ticket in November.”
