MADISON - Governor Scott Walker ordered flags to half-staff on Sunday, November 25, 2018 in honor of Army Air Forces Pfc. Joseph Natvik. On July 17, 1945, the plane Natvik was aboard crashed while carrying supplies to Chinese forces fighting the Japanese during World War II. Natvik will be laid to rest on Sunday, Nov. 25, 2018, with full military honors in Columbus, Wisconsin.

“Pfc. Joseph Natvik sacrificed his life to help save others during World War II,” said Governor Walker. “He is an American hero whose sacrifice we can never repay. It is an honor to see him finally return home with the honors he deserves.”
