BELOIT, Wis. – Yesterday, Rock County Circuit Court Judge Derrick Grubb submitted over 350 signatures to the Wisconsin Elections Commission in support of his candidacy to get on the ballot for the spring election. The Commission requires 200 signatures.

Judge Grubb said, “I am proud to have a strong showing of support from the Rock County community. Rock County has a tradition of a strong judicial system and I look forward to continuing to serve the people of Rock County on the bench.”

Judge Grubb, a resident of Beloit, has over 27 years of legal experience in Rock County and has served as a Rock County Circuit Court Judge since September. Judge Grubb primarily practiced in the area of civil (law) litigation during his 27 years in private practice prior to him taking the bench. He now presides over civil law cases.

The spring election will take place on April 2, 2019.
