Madison-State Representative John Nygren (R-Marinette), released the following statement regarding the State Assembly's extraordinary session today on school safety:

"As the husband of a public school teacher and father of public school students, the issue of school violence hits close to home. This is one of the reasons I voted today to provide $100 million in grant funds to schools across the state to make security improvements to ensure they are safe for our students and educators.

"Coupled with our ongoing investments in mental health initiatives, I am confident our actions today will have a positive impact on providing safe school environments for our children."
