MADISON – Today, One Wisconsin Now announced open records reveal Scott Walker recently used state resources for traveling to Rhinelander to film a campaign ad for his re-election bid. State Representative Melissa Sargent (D-Madison) released the following statement:

“This is an egregious misuse of state resources. The people of Wisconsin don’t send us their hard-earned money so politicians like Scott Walker can go gallivanting around Wisconsin filming campaign ads for their re-election. Clearly, Scott Walker’s power has gone to his head so much that he no longer can discern between what’s right and what’s wrong.”
