MADISON – Representative Lisa Subeck (D-Madison) released the following statement in response to Governor Walker’s 2018 State of the State address:

“For the eighth straight year, Governor Scott Walker gave a State of the State address that did nothing to reflect what life is really like for Wisconsin’s working families. Instead, the Governor gave a thinly veiled campaign speech, flip flopping on major issues and making more empty promises in a desperate attempt to get reelected.

Governor Walker’s agenda over the last 8 years may be working for big-money special interests and extreme ideologues, but it certainly isn’t working for the people of Wisconsin. While the Governor tries to sell his policy flip flops and glosses over the problems he has created, Democrats will continue working for the people of Wisconsin.”
