(Reedsburg, Wis.) – The Srenock for Justice Campaign announced Friday it has earned the endorsement of the Wisconsin REALTORS Association (WRA) in the February 20th Supreme Court primary election. The WRA chose Judge Srenock over both Judge Rebecca Dallet and attorney Tim Burns.

“After a thorough process of reviews and interviews, we believe Judge Srenock has the skills, experience and temperament to be an excellent and fair Justice on the Wisconsin Supreme Court,” said Peter Sveum, 2018 Wisconsin REALTORS Association Chairman of the Board.

“I am honored to receive the endorsement of our state’s realtors. They understand my experience in local government coupled with my advocacy on behalf of private interests uniquely prepares me to address the complex property issues that the Court frequently hears,” said Judge Srenock. “Wisconsin businesses, industries, and citizens deserve the security and predictability of an independent, nonpartisan judicial branch, and by electing me to the bench next spring, that is exactly what they will get.”

The Wisconsin REALTORS Association is one of the largest trade associations in the state, representing over 15,700 real estate brokers, salespeople and affiliates statewide.
