[Reedsburg, Wis.] – The Screnock for Justice Campaign announced Wednesday it has released its second radio ad of the 2018 Wisconsin Supreme Court race, titled “Law Enforcement’s Choice”.

The ad, which highlights Waukesha County Sheriff Eric Severson’s endorsement of Judge Michael Screnock, will run consistently in multiple markets across the state. It joins the Screnock Campaign’s “Rule of Law” ad as the only radio ads airing in the 2018 Wisconsin Supreme Court race.

“Sheriff Severson is one 42 bipartisan County Sheriff’s across Wisconsin to endorse Judge Screnock’s Campaign, making him the clear choice for law enforcement in this election,” said Luke Hilgemann, senior advisor to the Screnock for Justice Campaign.

“Our Sheriff’s and law enforcement professionals know the importance of protecting public safety and keeping our communities safe, and they are firmly in the corner of Judge Screnock,” said Hilgemann.

“Law Enforcement’s Choice”

Sheriff Severson: Hi—I’m Waukesha County Sheriff Eric Severson with an important message about public safety.

Sheriff Severson: As a law enforcement professional, it's my duty to help keep our communities safe.

Sheriff Severson: To do that, we need a court system that relies on the rule of law.

Sheriff Severson: That is why I've joined a majority of County Sheriff's across Wisconsin in supporting Judge Michael Srenock for Wisconsin's Supreme Court.

Sheriff Severson: Judge Srenock is the only candidate in the race who understands that upholding the rule of law is key to protecting public safety.

Sheriff Severson: Join me by voting for law enforcement's choice February 20th—Judge Michael Srenock.
