WASHINGTON — U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson (R-Wis.) said this after Harley-Davidson announced it will move some production of motorcycles bound for Europe out of the United States to avoid European Union retaliatory tariffs:

“Unfortunately, this confirms my concerns and is a far too predictable outcome of policies that give companies like Harley-Davidson incentives to make their products elsewhere. We need to hold China accountable for its trade abuses, but that does not need to come at the expense of American workers and businesses.”
