Brookfield, Wis. – While Senator Tammy Baldwin and her liberal pals in Washington smear President Trump’s Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh, Baldwin happily endorsed Keith Ellison for DNC Chairman and stands by his Attorney General campaign in Minnesota despite allegations of beating, violently assaulting and attacking his girlfriend.

“Tammy Baldwin proudly stood by Keith Ellison because according to her, ‘Ellison breaks glass ceilings,’ but he also beat, assaulted and sent his girlfriend to the hospital,” said Leah Vukmir campaign manager Jess Ward. “Somehow, in Baldwin’s completely twisted mind, she believes Judge Kavanaugh is unqualified as a result of uncorroborated reports, but it’s acceptable for Ellison to violently beat up his girlfriend and look the other way because, after all, Ellison is a liberal Democrat like herself.”

BACKGROUND ...

Tammy Baldwin: I’m endorsing Keith Ellison for DNC Chairman. “I hear the voices of Americans who are angry because they feel Washington is broken and it isn’t working for them. I also share deeply the concerns of our friends and neighbors who are afraid because they don’t believe the Republican establishment in Washington is committed the idea that we are stronger together, that America is great because we are a diverse and inclusive nation. It’s important for progressives to speak truth to power and join together to take on the corporate lobbyists and Wall Street interests that are now calling the shots in Washington to make a rigged system work for them. Too many Americans are being left behind and we need to change that by building an economy that works for everyone, not just those at the top. That's why I'm endorsing Keith Ellison to be Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. I will fight to make sure all Americans have an opportunity to achieve their hopes and dreams. That is the promise of America and I will fight to make sure we keep it. Please join me in this fight." (Tammy Baldwin, Accessed 10/01/18)
