ICYMI - Patrick Testin: I Choose Leah

Stevens Point Sen. Patrick Testin penned a column that ran Wednesday about why he is endorsing Leah Vukmir for U.S. Senate. Last year, Testin's hard work flipped the 24th Senate District to Republican for the first time since 1972, defeating incumbent Democrat Julie Lassa.

Read an excerpt from his column in The Tomah Journal:

“People often ask me who I am supporting in the 2018 U.S. Senate race. For me, the answer is an easy one; I choose Leah Vukmir. Leah is more than a close friend and colleague; she is someone I trust to work on behalf of all Wisconsinites.”

“Throughout her time serving in the legislature in Madison, Leah has been consistent in making sure we enact sound policies that strengthen the middle class, invest in the future workforce of our state and create a positive environment for job creation and new opportunities for Wisconsinites.

“I know that Leah will take that same approach if she is given the chance to represent us in the U.S. Senate. There is no doubt in my mind that D.C. could learn a thing or two from what we have been able to accomplish here in Wisconsin, and that is why I am proudly supporting Leah and ask that you give her your vote so she can be our voice in Washington.”
