'Leah Stood with Trump in 2016...Will As Your Next Senator'

Brookfield, Wis. — U.S. Senate candidate Leah Vukmir released new TV and radio ads Monday morning, featuring key Trump ally Sean Duffy, who calls the desperate attacks against Leah 'fake news.'

Watch the ad here.

In the 15-second TV spot filmed in Hayward, Wis., Duffy says:

"I'm Sean Duffy. The ads against Leah Vukmir are fake news. Leah stood with President Trump in 2016, and she will as your next senator. On Aug. 14, vote Leah Vukmir for Senate."

Wisconsin's favorite lumberjack also recorded a one-minute radio ad, which you can listen to here:

Narrator: "It was 2016, and President Trump was under attack. He needed our help. Republican Leah Vukmir proudly cut a radio ad supporting the president. She helped bring Wisconsin home. Kevin Nicholson? He was nowhere to be found, and today he launches false attacks. Wisconsin's real conservatives know the truth."

Duffy: "I'm Congressman Sean Duffy. Folks elected me to bring my ax to Washington to cut the red tape and wasteful spending but I can't do it alone. That's why I'm endorsing Leah Vukmir for U.S. Senate."

"Leah's a compassionate nurse and a real fighter. When the time came to take tough votes, Leah stood with Gov. Scott Walker. And today, our Wisconsin economy is booming."

"Now Leah's running for Senate, and I can't think of anyone who will do more to help President Trump drain the swamp. She's a tested, proven, consistent conservative who can beat Tammy Baldwin."

"On Aug. 14, vote Leah Vukmir for Senate."

Both ads will play in media markets across Wisconsin.
