Brookfield, Wis. — The Wisconsin Young Republicans announced their endorsement of nurse Leah Vukmir for U.S. Senate on Monday.

“Leah has a proven conservative record, and we can trust she’ll deliver on the promises she makes,” Wisconsin Young Republicans Chair Samantha Machart said. “Her long list of conservative victories for Wisconsin is exactly the type of leadership that is desperately needed in Washington. We need Leah’s determination now, more than ever. It’s time to unite behind Leah. She’s the candidate who will beat Sen. Baldwin this November.”

“The support of our Young Republicans is humbling. Their passionate involvement to advance conservative causes is essential, and I’m grateful for their support,” Leah said. “Wisconsinites and President Trump need another ally in the Senate who voters can trust to build the wall, repeal Obamacare, defend the unborn and protect our Constitutional rights.”
