Madison – Representative Amy Loudenbeck (R-Clinton) released the Weekly Radio Address on behalf of the Wisconsin State Republicans.

Season's Greetings! I'm State Representative Amy Loudenbeck.

This month, families across Wisconsin will come together to celebrate the holidays. Most will enjoy special meals and exchange gifts, many will worship with friends and neighbors, some will travel great distances, and others will stay close to home. I'd like to take a moment to recognize and thank those who won't be celebrating Christmas with their families this year due to their commitment to serve our country and our communities.

I want to extend a heartfelt thank you to the men and women in the armed forces serving our great nation at home and abroad, the public safety officers and emergency responders who keep us safe, and the health care professionals who care for our loved ones.

I hope that as you celebrate with your families this holiday season, you remember

individuals and thank them for their dedication and their service.
Happy Holidays, Merry Christmas and a Joyous New Year.
