The Wisconsin Next PAC announced today that it raised over $1 million to fund independent expenditures supporting Leah Vukmir between October 1 and December 31 of last year. Below is a statement from the Wisconsin Next PAC's Executive Director Stephan Thompson:

“Wisconsin Next PAC has exceeded our initial fundraising goals thanks to growing conservative support for Leah Vukmir’s Senate campaign. With over $1 million raised already, we are confident we will have the resources to unite Republicans behind Leah and defeat Senator Baldwin.”

The Wisconsin Next PAC is a federal “Super PAC.” It will raise funds in unlimited amounts from individuals, corporations and other business entities, PACs and nonprofit organizations, and will make independent expenditures supporting Leah Vukmir’s nomination and election as the next United States Senator from Wisconsin.
