WisGOP: Gov. Walker makes WISGOP's 3 millionth voter contact phone call in 2018 election cycle

Republican Party of Wisconsin ground game running at full speed ahead of November

[Madison, WI] — Today, Governor Scott Walker made the 3 millionth voter contact phone call by the Republican Party of Wisconsin this election cycle. The event at the WISGOP's La Crosse field office brought energy and excitement as Republicans showcased the ground game that is exceeding previous year's voter contact efforts. Our grassroots volunteers are working overtime to elect conservatives like Scott Walker, Rebecca Kleefisch, Leah Vukmir, and Brad Schimel. Following the call, the Republican Party of Wisconsin released the following statement from Chairman Brad Courtney:

"It is amazing to see our dedicated volunteers work day in and day out to get our positive message out to the voters of Wisconsin. With 3 million phone calls made this election cycle, it is clear how energized the Republican Party is as we enter the final stretch before the November election. Our voters know the importance of reelecting Governor Walker and replacing Tammy Baldwin with a conservative like Leah Vukmir. We're working to move Wisconsin forward."
