[Madison, WI] — Leah Vukmir would take our Wisconsin way to Washington. At tonight's debate, Senator Tammy Baldwin displayed the same extreme far-left policies she displays daily in Washington. From her over 400 votes in favor of higher taxes and fees, to letting down veterans at the Tomah VA, it's clear that Tammy Baldwin is not working for Wisconsin families. It's time for a new, conservative leader in Washington - Leah Vukmir. Following tonight's debate, the Republican Party of Wisconsin released the following statement from Executive Director Mark Morgan:

"Tammy Baldwin continues to cater to her liberal Washington allies and leave hard-working Wisconsin families behind. She has failed our veterans, pushed burdensome regulations that harm Wisconsin industry, and repeatedly supported higher taxes — Baldwin has shown first hand she'll pick Washington over Wisconsin every time.

"It's time to send new conservative leadership to Washington. Leah Vukmir is a blue star mom and a nurse who has stood by her principles during some of the toughest fights for real reform here in Wisconsin. It's time to send Leah - and our Wisconsin way - to Washington."
