Most voter contact door knocks ever in a Midterm Election for WISGOP

[Madison, WI] — Wisconsin's Republican volunteers are fired up. With today's door knock by Lt. Governor Rebecca Kleefisch, the Republican Party of Wisconsin has knocked on more doors than ever during a Midterm Election. Thanks to the hard work of countless WISGOP volunteers, the Party has made well over 1 million door knocks this election cycle. Following today's record-breaking voter contact, the Republican Party of Wisconsin released this statement from Chairman Brad Courtney:

"I've always said that our grassroots volunteers are the best in the nation, and they continue to prove it. With over 3 million voter contact phone calls and more doors knocked than ever before, our ground-game efforts are full speed ahead as we march towards Election Day. We're ready to fight for Scott Walker, Rebecca Kleefisch, Brad Schimel, and Leah Vukmir to keep moving Wisconsin forward."
