

Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Conference

Posted on Tuesday, Apr 16, 2019

Angel investing pioneer Jeff Rusinow and tech creator, designer and author John Zeratsky will set the tone for the annual Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Conference, which will take place June 4-5 in Milwaukee.

The conference, to be held at Venue42 in Milwaukee's revitalized Brewery District, is returning the Cream City to celebrate the region's rise as a startup and scale-up hub. Registration is now open at witrepsconference.com or linked here.

Rusinow founded Milwaukee's first angel network, Silicon Pastures, in 2000. His best deal exits include BuySeasons, ModernMed and Propeller Health, which sold for more than $300 million collectively. He will reflect on two decades as a "lean-in" angel; tell inside stories on deals that went well and not-so-well; reveal internal deal statistics for the first time; and offer advice to startup founders and angels on how not to be consumed in the "food chain" of investing. Rusinow will speak June 4.

Zeratsky was co-creator of Google Ventures' Design Sprint, a process combining strategy, design, behavioral science and lean-startup principles, and the subject of his best-selling book, "Sprint." He has run more than 150 sprints with startups such as Slack, Nest, Blue Bottle Coffee and Uber. With stories and illustrated examples, Wisconsin native Zeratsky will explain the Design Sprint process and show how it can be used by any team to create solutions and try risky ideas fast. Zeratsky will speak June 5.

"Connecting the I-Q Corridor" is the theme of the conference, where 'treps from around the state will showcase their innovations, services and technologies. A dozen panel tracks formed under three unique stages of "launch," "grow" and "succeed" will appeal to entrepreneurs in all stages. Detailed panel information will be posted soon at witrepsconference.com.

Produced by the Tech Council, the Entrepreneurs' Conference is one of the largest
